

TAXATION INFORMATION AND SELF-CERTIFICATION

For Entity investors

INTRODUCTION

Under Automatic Exchange of Information (AEOI) regulations we are required to obtain various details of our investors, including where they are established, countries of tax residence*, related tax identification numbers and their 'self-certification' that the information they provide is true and complete. We may have to provide this information to our domestic tax authority who may share it with overseas tax authorities. We may also have to collect and record information about parties linked to you, which are referred to as 'Controlling Persons'. We may have to provide this information to the tax authority where Old Mutual International (OMI) is based, who may share the information with overseas tax authorities.

An entity is a legal person or legal arrangement as opposed to a living individual. Examples of entity would be companies, trusts or foundations.

*Country of tax residence

Each jurisdiction has its own rules for defining tax residence. Normally an Entity is tax resident where it is established or conducts the majority of its activity. Because tax residence is determined by the country or countries in which tax is paid, it is possible to be tax resident in more than one country at the same time.

Tax Identification Number (TIN)

A TIN will be the unique code or an equivalent number assigned by a jurisdiction to identify an Entity for the purpose of administering tax laws. This is normally the number used when corresponding with a tax authority. This could be a specific tax identification number, or an equivalent unique reference. Further information on the issuance rules for TINs and their format is on the OECDs website: <http://www.oecd.org/tax/automatic-exchange/crs-implementation-and-assistance/tax-identification-numbers/#d.en.347759>

Change of Circumstances

The information provided in this self-certification will remain valid unless there is a change of circumstance which affects or alters that information. If we receive information which suggests the Entity's country of tax residence has changed, we may ask you to complete another self-certification. You must notify us if there is a change in circumstance that makes this form incorrect or incomplete.

NOTE

- For help to work out where you are tax resident, or if you are unsure about your TIN, please consult your financial adviser or refer to the information on the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development's (OECD) website www.oecd.org/tax/automatic-exchange.
- If you are unsure what information to include, please consult your financial adviser.
- Your financial adviser will also be able to confirm that this is the most up-to-date version of this form.
- References to investor means an account/bond/plan/policy holders with a regulated Old Mutual International company, details of which are shown in the relevant company's legal information at the end of this form.
- If there are more than two investors, please provide the additional investors' information on a separate form.
